El italiano Vincenzo Nibali (Liquigas) ganó este sábado la quinta etapa de la Vuelta a Omán al superar al eslovaco Peter Velits y al francés Sandy Casar en la cima de la "Green Mountain", tras un recorrido de 158 kilómetros disputado en Jabal Al Ajdhar.

Velits arrebató además el maillot rojo de líder al alemán André Greipel. En la general, el corredor del equipo Omega Pharma-Quick Step supera a Nibali por un segundo y al francés Tony Gallopin, quinto este sábado, por 17 segundos.

El domingo, la sexta y última jornada será un recorrido entre Al Jawd y Matrah Corniche de 130 kilómetros.
